VOLUME CXL-NO. 240.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., TUESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 10, 1905.

PRICE 2 CENTS.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very midst of his life, and he left his family $1,000,000. The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friend: "This man was a suicide. He had a splendid constitution, but he could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by eating, drinking, and smoking. He had a splendid constitution, but he could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by eating, drinking, and smoking."

The symptoms of a disordered stomach are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, indigestion, loss of sleep, dizziness, and a general feeling of uneasiness. No person will have all these symptoms at once.

The restoration of the stomach to sound health, begun with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses until the functions of the stomach are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet and strong, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpelide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpelide." Herpelide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpelide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair out at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpelide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

We thought we should have to amputate both his legs, and feel that Hamlin's Wizard Oil saved his life." Price 50c and $1.00.

Nude in Snowstorm.

Naked savages coming over the side of their vessel during a blizzard in the Straits of Magellan was the most stirring feature of the recent record-breaking trip of the tug Neptune, as related by Chief Engineer William Beck and First Assistant Engineer Herbert Long in Baltimore yesterday.

Messrs. Beck and Long are the first of the crew of Baltimore men to return to Baltimore after having delivered to the United States government at San Francisco the Baltimore-built tug Neptune that had been sold for quarantine service by the American Towing and Lightering Company.

When in Smith Channel, one of the passages of the Straits, night set in with a howling gale and an old-fashioned snowstorm. On every side reared huge mountains that broke the sea, but there was every danger to navigation at night in a snowstorm through a region that resembled Norway's fjords, and Captain McLeod rang down the engine and dropped the anchor. The crew had left Baltimore in midsummer and the cold seemed especially biting, so much so that they turned the steam on in the coils all over the sturdy tug and when it did over all the clothing they could get on.

It was late in the evening, dog watch, and the crew were gathered in the forward compartment talking over home and the strange things they had already seen on their unique voyage around the Horn in a Baltimore tug, when there was a bump alongside and a yell. All tumbled on deck and, by the aid of a lantern, saw alongside a queer craft, out of which tumbled a savage stark naked excepting for a breechcloth. Following him was a woman with bimbarly abbreviated costume and three half-grown children. The snow fell and melted on their glistening skins and they seemed to mind not one whit the icy wind that sang through the rigging and made the Baltimoreans shiver. The man was splendidly developed physically and twirled a huge war club as easily as one would a walking stick. Conversation was impossible, but by signs the visitors made known that they wanted something to eat. Their wants were supplied and they disappeared in the darkness with the spray flying over their canoes and freezing where it hit and yet never a shiver from these hardy Patagonians.

Cannot Break His Neck.

Because of a peculiar freak of nature, Robert Gardiner, a prisoner in the county jail at Chicago, charged with the murder of Agnes Morrison, may escape the death penalty. When he was arraigned in court yesterday his attorney, William Buckner, startled the court by turning to Assistant State's Attorney Barbour and saying: "This is a case where it won't do any good to ask for the death penalty. They can't break this man's neck if he do try to hang him, and you may lose him altogether by hanging him and failing to execute the sentence in full."

It appears that the prisoner is suffering from ossification of the vertebrae and tissues of the neck. According to Prof. Steffenon, of Rush Medical College, only five cases similar have ever come to the notice of the medical profession. Gardiner, who was formerly a cashier, carries his head tilted forward and slightly twisted to one side. He is unable to move his head or incline it except with great effort, and is hardly able to eat or speak owing to the effect of the ossification on the sympathetic membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes. Attorney Buckner declares that the hardening of bone and tissue has proceeded so far that it would be impossible to bring any strain upon the patient's neck that would be sufficiently severe to cause any discomfort other than a slight straining of the muscles.

Funeral in "Little Italy."

One of the most remarkable funerals "Little Italy" has known was given yesterday to Mrs. Josephine Garome, the young wife of Michael Garome, a wealthy real estate dealer of New York. For two nights policemen have been stationed at the house guarding the casket, which was covered with broad velvet and had gold plate and handles. The dead woman in it was regally gowned, while thousands of dollars' worth of gems on her fingers and throat and on the bosom of her gown flashed under the candle light, the jewels which, by her husband's order, were buried with the body. Mrs. Garome was celebrated in Little Italy as the most beautiful young matron of the quarter. Married when she was a mere girl, she had six little children, who accompanied their father in the carriages yesterday. A line of carriages several blocks long followed the hearse, which was drawn by six coal-black horses. Immediately behind it were 10 carriages filled with flowers. From the woman's home to the church, near the Bowers, the coffin was borne on the shoulders of young men wearing black frock coats, with white sashes and white gloves. Solemn high mass was said at the church, and the long procession filed over the Delancy street bridge to Calvary Cemetery.

Parisian and American Millinery.

The present millinery display is the most extensive, satisfactory, and successful we have ever made. Our buyer spent many weeks in Europe studying the OLD WORLD styles and making selections from the most celebrated milliners and manufacturers.

Distinctive features mark the season's millinery, and it requires the very same of refined taste to eliminate the exaggerated ideas of style. This is thoroughly accomplished in our display, where the combinations of flowers, feathers, and rich velvets and laces are unequalled.

Since the beginning of millinery pattern hats have been sought by those aspiring to lead. This is not so apparent these days among well-dressed women, who prefer individuality, a prominent distinction in the WOODWARD & LOTHROP hats. Each one has a touch of excellent beauty all its own.

A very choice collection of ostrich feathers, alpacas, wigs, flowers, and millinery novelties now on display.

TUESDAY EVENING, OCT. 10, 1905

It has been frequently stated in these columns that the Chinese boycott of American products had not ended, despite weekly statements from American consuls in China that it had. Today the following is given out in Washington:

News that the merchants of China who have been protesting the boycott against American goods have decided to temporarily suspend that movement to await possible action of the United States Congress in softening the exclusion laws is contained in official dispatches received from Peking. The information comes from the Merchants' Guild of that place, and is to the effect that this course has been decided on by merchants throughout the empire. The action follows the advice of the Chinese government in the matter, which was given as a consequence of the attitude of President Roosevelt. Should Congress fail to take the desired action the boycott will again become effective, and will be pressed with renewed vigor.

And no reasonable man can blame the Chinese for the retaliatory steps they have taken.

SENATOR ALDRICH, of Rhode Island, chairman of the Senate finance committee, is in Washington and it is said by those who talk with him that he and Speaker Cannon will be found standing shoulder to shoulder this winter in opposition to tariff revision. As chairman of the finance committee and a recognized republican leader in the Senate, Mr. Aldrich's convictions as to tariff and financial legislation carry weight at that end of the Capitol, while it can be relied upon that Speaker Cannon will shut off attempts at tariff reduction in the House. There will be no tariff revision while the republicans are in power.

JUDGE WADSWORTH, in the United States Court, will hear arguments in Richmond on October 17, in the case of several men confined in the Alexandria county jail on a charge of gambling. Their attorneys claim that the laws of Virginia are not in effect in Alexandria county because its secession to Virginia from the United States was not legal. It had been generally supposed that this question had been settled, but agitators are ever popping up the world over. About two years ago Senator Hoar in a report on the question made by the Senate judiciary committee, left no leg for the annexationists to stand upon.

FOLLOWING the raids made by Captain Gallagher on four New York hotels came the declaration yesterday from the proprietor of one of the hotels that the unprecedented invasion was for no other purpose than to settle a score caused by the hotel men's refusal to contribute graft to the police. The sum from this source, from gambling and other places in the district, is placed at $36,000 a month. The worse phase of the whole affair is that a similar condition of affairs exists to a greater or less extent in nearly every city in the country.

AND NOW it is said that President Roosevelt will not ask for a revision of the tariff in his coming message to Congress. This has been decided after a number of conferences between the President and the members of his Cabinet. The President, while inclined to favor a readjustment of the tariff schedules, is not at all convinced that such action is demanded immediately by the country. No President ever changed his mind oftener than the present occupant of the White House.

The republicans of New York are at their wits end for candidates to oppose those of Tammany Hall. Mayor McClelland's administration has been such a good one that there is no possibility of defeating him for re-election, and every man who is put up against him declines the "honor." Not only is this so with the mayoralty, but last night Richard Young, nominated by the republicans for comptroller, also declined to become a candidate for that office.

A DISTURBANCE occurred among a number of men yesterday evening near the electric railroad station which continued for some time, its duration being explained by the non-appearance of the police, whom it was said, were all at supper. Regularity in meals, it is admitted, is conducive of good health, but still it would appear that in Alexandria all the officers need not breakfast, dine or sup at the same hour.

The votes in the second election for the Hall of Fame were canvassed in New yesterday. The greatest surprise of the day was the defeat of Edgar Allan Poe for a tablet. Many regarded Poe as the only poet that the United States ever produced and the idea of his name being dimmed by such men as attempted to "turn his picture to the wall" yesterday is preposterous.

JEFFERSON P. RAYLEE, once a wealthy banker and business associate of Jay Gould, Commodore Vanderbilt and John P. Blair, went to the poorhouse in New York yesterday. Riches often take to themselves wings, and those who have basked in affluence feel their departure more keenly than others who have all their lives battled with adverse fortune.

PROFESSOR H. A. SURFACE, of the State College, economic zoologist of Pennsylv-

nia, declares that he is ready to eat a cabbage snake or worm to prove that a widespread belief that this particular kind of worm, if eaten, will cause sure death, is entirely unfounded. De gustibus non est disputandum.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10. Consul General Hallway, of Halifax, Nova Scotia, has reported to the Department of Commerce and Labor that Canadian newspapers are printing statements that the Dominion government has practically completed an arrangement whereby Canada will enjoy the benefits of Great Britain's commercial treaty with Japan. The Mikado's kingdom has maximum and minimum tariff and Canada will get the benefit of the latter. The Dominion government believes in a few years the Orient will become the outlet for a large proportion of its foreign trade.

Mrs. Roosevelt will accompany the President on his southern trip at least as far as Rowell, Ga., the home of the President's mother. It is not probable that any other ladies will accompany the party. Mrs. Roosevelt did not at first intend to go at all. But as soon as the President had definitely decided to travel south hundreds of letters were received from Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia, begging the "first lady in the land" to accept the hospitality of Dixie in company with her husband. These appeals were so generous and at the same time so insistent that Mrs. Roosevelt finally consented to make part of the journey.

President Roosevelt has decided to abandon the matter of tariff readjustment for the present and devote his entire energy to securing the passage of railroad rate legislation during the coming session of Congress. He has by no means given up the idea of securing an equitable and up to date rearrangement of the tariff schedules, but realizes that he cannot gain both that and railroad rate legislation during the same session of the national law makers. If he tried to get both he would very probably secure neither, and as he regards the effort to secure the proper control of railroad rates as by far the more important crusade of the two, he will train all his guns on that one fortress and is confident of victory before spring. The matter of tariff readjustment is not more crying importance just now than it was a year or two ago and will not have become much more so before December, 1907. The President believes that he will be able to secure the readjustment in due time, and when that time comes will center his fire upon his target just as he will do on railroad rate legislation this winter, and will strike the mark.

If a crank would throw a fifteen cent firecracker into the lobby of any principal hotel in this city, the atmosphere would rain gold bonds and certified checks for the next three days. While this statement of an outsider is not more extravagant there is no question but that the big hotels here are packed and jammed with the most representative assortment of bankers, trust company magnates and savings bank trustees that has ever gathered in the United States. Representing the vast sums on which the commercial credit of the country is founded, they will for the next three days discuss and hear discussed by eminent authorities questions relating to the banking practice and ethics. By midnight last night there were over two thousand portly and prosperous gentlemen of financial bearing in town. With them came wives, daughters and friends. A wild panic in the lobby of the Willard was narrowly averted this morning when the house detective with panther like tread and eagle eye trained a man from the breakfast room to the cigar stand. No, the bankers were not afraid that a pickpocket was loose in their midst; they mistook the house detective for Thomas Lawson, of Boston, to whom the detective bears a striking resemblance. There was a stampede to beat it from the vicinity of the supposed dread avenger. The next president of the association will in all likelihood be John L. Hamilton, of the banking firm of Hamilton & Cunningham, Hoopstons, Ills. The savings bank and trust company sections met this morning at ten o'clock for their first sessions. A resolution was passed at today's session endorsing the movement to place the savings banks of the District of Columbia under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency.

The statistical board of the Agricultural Department today announced the following crop report: The condition of corn October 1 was 89.2, as compared with 89.5 last month, 83.9 on October 1, 1904, 80.8 at the corresponding date in 1903 and a ten year average of 80.2. The preliminary estimate of the average yield per acre of spring wheat is 14.7 bushels. The average quality of spring wheat is 89 as compared with 75.7 in 1904 and 85.5 in 1903. The preliminary returns indicate an oat crop of about 939,332,000 bushels, or an average of 33.1 bushels per acre as compared with 32.4 bushels as finally estimated in 1904, 28.4 bushels in 1903, and a ten year average of 29.4 bushels. The average for quality is 92.4 against 91.4 in 1904, and 79.9 in 1902.

Motion to advance the argument in the Chicago traction cases involving the validity of the 99 years franchise were submitted to the Supreme Court of the United States today.

In the U. S. Supreme Court today the Isle of Pines case was passed by.

The Pan-American Sanitary convention settled down today to work out great problems of sanitation, Surgeon General Wyman was selected as president of the present meeting, and Dr. Eduardo Liceaga of Mexico, president of the next convention. It was resolved that conventions be held every two years and the next in the City of Mexico in December, 1906.

Attorney General Fitts, of Vermont, in the Supreme Court of the United States today submitted a motion to advance the case of Mrs. Mary M. Rogers, who is under sentence of death for the murder of her husband and whose case has attracted national attention.

Attorney General N. B. Hayes, of Kentucky, in the Supreme Court of the United States today, moved to advance for speedy hearing the case of James B. Howard, three times convicted of the assassination of Governor Goebel. In a few days a similar motion to advance will be made in the case of Caleb Powers, also three times convicted for the same offense.

Motions to advance the hearing, preferably to some time early in December, were submitted in the Supreme Court of the United States today by Solicitor General Hoyt in the cases of the United States against Senator Clark, of Montana, and Bitter Root Development and Anaconda Mining Companies. There are suits in equity involving alleged land and timber frauds. In the case of Senator Clark the alleged frauds cover 11,480 acres of timber land in Montana, and in the other $2,000,000 worth of timber cut from government lands. On behalf of Senator Clark, objection was made to advancing the cases.

An important case for union labor was disposed of in the Supreme Court of the United States today, the decision of the court being hostile to the contention of the labor unions being sustained by stipulation. The case was that of Donovan vs. Berry, from the Supreme Court of Massachusetts. Berry, a non-union shoemaker, worked for Hosen B. Goodrich & Company at Haverhill, Goodrich had a contract with the union to employ only union men. Berry was discharged, as Berry refused to join the union. Berry sued and got judgment for $1,500, the Supreme Court of Massachusetts held that the contract between Goodrich & Co. and the union to be against public policy. Donovan appealed, but by stipulation of the parties the case was returned to the Supreme Court of the United States today.

The famous "woman in blue," Mrs. Lucy G. Lee, of Manassas, L. I., who made several unsuccessful attempts to call upon the President at Oyster Bay this summer, was arrested at the White House last night. She was recognized by the secret service men, who had been with the President at Oyster Bay, as soon as she stepped into the corridor of the President's office building, and was immediately taken into custody. The officer turned her over to the police and she was locked up at headquarters pending examination. Dr. Frank, the Chief Sanitary Officer of the "Summer Capital," requested the Secret Service Bureau to furnish him with a detailed account of Mrs. Lee's various appearances at Oyster Bay, and when he secures that information he will be able to examine the woman more intelligently. He believes the report will set forth her idiosyncrasies and previous history, but the secret service is in determining the sanity of a patient under observation. Mrs. Lee's frequent visits to Oyster Bay became one of the chief topics of gossip at the "Summer Capital." Each time she was arrested or turned back from Sagamore Hill she took her rebuff severely and philosophically, and went away smiling to return the next time with the same confidence to try her luck again.

The bureau of manufactures of the Department of Commerce and Labor through its chief, John M. Carson, is urging upon farmers the adding of flax raising to the profitable features of farm life. Flax is gaining a number of converts to show the opening there is for American flax in foreign markets. With the exception of Russia, Hungary is the only country that has gained a reputation for flax raising. The flax growing in an increased area given to flax growing for the fiber. Consequently the prices have gone up. It was reported here today that the Circuit Court at Richmond has granted a writ of injunction restraining Attorney Mackey from interfering with the operations of the Virginia Telegraph Company at Jackson City. Until the legal status of the island is determined, but there was no confirmation of the report.

The Norwegian Storting yesterday adopted the agreement with Sweden for dissolution by a vote of 101 to 16.

A Washington dispatch states that friction developed between the administration of the Panama canal project, and that a clash between Secretary of War Taft and Chairman Shonts is not improbable.

One of the results of the recent total solar eclipse is the renewal of the belief expressed in astronomical circles that in course of time the earth will, through the certain evolutions of the solar body, be reduced to a state of frigidity. This is one of the conclusions of the French astronomer, M. Camille Flammarion, who made his observations from Almanzan, in Spain.

Germany will accept Russia's invitation to attend the second peace conference at The Hague on condition that the points to be discussed shall be arranged in advance by an interchange of communication among the powers, so that the objects of the conference may be defined with precision, thus avoiding questions upon which any power has reservations. The Minister of Foreign Affairs of Sweden says the treaty of 1855 binds the King not to cede any Swedish or Norwegian territory to Russia nor to grant Russia any coast privileges. The treaty of peace between Russia and Japan will become effective upon its approval without waiting the formal exchange of ratifications at Washington.

Mr. Swanson in Richmond. Congressman Swanson, democratic nominee for Governor, made a powerful and eloquent speech for his ticket before a large audience in the Academy of Music in Richmond last night, and he was given a splendid ovation, which not only indicates his own popularity, but precludes harmonious action on the part of the democrats of Richmond at the coming general election. The occasion may very properly be termed a democratic love feast, for the audience was composed of party men without reference to past differences, while on the stage were leaders prominent in all factions.

One incident which foretold harmony of action was the introduction of the permanent presiding officer, Hon. J. Taylor Elliston, democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, by Hon. James Alston Cabell, his unsuccessful competitor in the recent primary.

Giants Win the First. Masterly pitching by Christy Mathewson, backed up by gilt-edged playing by the men behind him, gave the New York National League champions a victory at Philadelphia yesterday. Philadelphia's American League pennant winners in the first of the series of seven games for the world's championship. Philadelphia failed to score, Mathewson allowing the home team only four hits, while the New Yorkers managed to score three runs off Plank. Although defeated, Philadelphia played a brilliant game. It was a clean victory for the New York team, the element of luck cutting no figure in the contest. The National League champions played a clean game, and it was only their persistency in holding up Plank at the right moment that gave them the victory.

In concluding, Bishop Van de Vyver announced that after high mass next Saturday he would give a message to the people from the Pope in the form of the papal benediction.

Fish Planting. During the past year nearly all of the streams in Virginia have been plentifully stocked by the United States fish commission with the choicest of eggs, fries and adults. The fry are small fish, usually the size of minnows, and adults are those which have attained their normal growth. Millions of eggs have been placed in different sections where the agents of the commission thought them best suited and from the State blackmouth bass, brook trout, crappie, black bass and other varieties have been variously scattered. As a rule most of the eggs and fish were placed in small ponds instead of large streams, in order that the fish might remain in the localities where they were placed and not make their way out of the State.

Off Dogue creek, Potomac, there were placed 1,899,000 eggs of the brook variety. Off Little Hunting creek, Potomac, 2,898,000; off Occoquan, Potomac, 3,208,000; off Pohick creek, Potomac, 809,000.

At Ashburn 375 crappies were placed in Broad Run river; Catlett, Cedar Run, 200.

Large mouth black bass were placed at Ashburn, Goose creek, 100, and Boyce, Shenandoah, Bristow, Broad Run, Occoquan, Occoquan river, and at various points along the Shenandoah river. About 750,000 yellow perch were placed; Mount Vernon, Potomac river, $4,777,000; off Dogue creek, Potomac, 8,225,000; off Little Hunting creek, 4,257,000.

Shaw and Daniel at Lexington.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw spent yesterday in Lexington. He was met on his arrival at the station by General Scott Shipp, superintendent of Virginia Military Institute, Dr. George H. Denny, president of Washington and Lee University, and Captain Samuel B. Walter, mayor of Lexington, who drove to the Lee Memorial Chapel of Washington and Lee, where Secretary Shaw addressed the assembly. He was introduced by Dr. Denny. The distinguished visitor expressed his pleasure at being in Lexington. He gave some timely advice to the young men who received his address with enthusiasm. The keynote of his address was that every man must pay the price of success. Quoting the words of another he said, "Nature keeps a one price store. Whoever lays down the price gets the goods." At the conclusion of Secretary Shaw's address, Senator John W. Daniel was presented by Dr. Denny and he made a brief but felicitous speech, and counseled the students to habits of industry and perseverance.

Secretary Shaw yesterday afternoon witnessed the dress parade and drill of the Virginia Military Institute cadets. State Chairman Stemp accompanied the party to Lexington.

Gale in the Gulf. A terrific southeast gale that started Sunday afternoon on the Gulf of Mexico is still raging, and it is feared shipping has suffered considerably. Meager reports of damage along the Mississippi coast are coming in. The telegraph companies will be heavy losers. The Bain shell road, a famous driveway running out of this city, has been damaged badly. The wind blew sixty miles an hour at Fort Morgan, and yesterday afternoon it blew from the northeast, and many trees and smokestacks were blown down. The heavy rain and high winds of the past two days have done considerable damage in the vicinity of New Orleans, but there is no loss of life as far as known.

An Ordained Weather Prophet. Daniel Hargrove, about 50 years old, who says he is from Greensboro, N. C. called at the White House yesterday morning to urge President Roosevelt to give him an appointment in the Weather Bureau. Hargrove said he is ordained as a weather prophet and was especially qualified to make the weather forecasts. He went to Washington, he declared, to take up his duties as chief weather prophet of the government. He denounced the present system employed by the Weather Bureau and asserted that he alone had the right method of forecasting. Hargrove was arrested by Secret Service men and he will be examined for the purpose of determining his sanity.

Williams, editor of the News-Leader, was fined $100 for a technical violation of the Barksdale law in connection with the recent primary. The jury recommended that the fine be remitted and this is likely to be done.

The chief witness against Police Commissioner Manning, on a like charge, was missing and the case was delayed.

On account of sickness in his stables Henry Fairfax has withdrawn his entries at the horse show.

Panama and Colombia.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—Conference for the purpose of determining what part, if any, of the foreign debt of Colombia shall be assumed by the republic of Panama will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the State Department. Senator Mendoza, the Colombian Minister; Senator Chaldia, the Panamanian Minister; Secretary Root and Minister Barrett, until lately the United States representative at Panama, will be the conference. The foreign loans of Colombia, which amounts to about five million dollars, were largely obtained by that country because of the fact that Panama was one of her integral parts, foreigners recognizing the isthmus as a valuable asset of Colombia.

When Panama seceded from Colombia the latter's foreign creditors began to get uneasy and brought pressure to bear for payment. Colombia holds that inasmuch as Panama shared to some extent in the benefits of the loans she should bear a part of the burden. She proposes that the division should be made on a pro rata basis according to population. The population of Panama is about 800,000 and that of Colombia something over 3,000,000. Panama's share on this basis would be about one-tenth or $500,000. Of course Panama wants to evade any payment whatever, but in view of the general desire that Colombia should recognize Panama's independence and resume pleasant relations with her former dependency, the United States has urged that an agreement be reached. It is believed that the result of Thursday's conference will be to provide for a payment of half a million to Panama to Colombia. It is probable, however, that certain conditions regarding trade and commerce between the two countries will be included in the agreement, which may take the form of a treaty.

To be Placed in Siberia.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10.—The plans of the government for colonizing the soldiers who have been engaged in Manchuria during the war instead of bringing them home, where it is feared they would add to the internal dissatisfaction, are gradually taking shape. The plan is to offer inducements to the soldiers in the shape of land and loans to develop it, in the hope that large settlements of former soldiers will be established in Siberia. Each soldier will be allowed a claim of 100 acres in Siberia and the government will loan each settler 100 rubles to be paid at the end of four years, without interest. Officers who were decorated for bravery during the war will be entitled to 400 acres of land and a loan of 400 rubles. There is really a double purpose on the part of the government in offering these inducements to soldiers to remain in Siberia. There is little doubt that with great bodies of the soldiers, who have become disgusted with the military regime in Manchuria, coming home the unrest which already prevails throughout Russia would be increased. Then, too, if colonies are created in Siberia it means that Russia will have a large population which could easily be converted into an army in the east in case of a war in the future.

Destructive Fire in Boston.

Boston, Oct. 10.—Seven buildings were destroyed and thirty houses burned in a fire this morning that broke out on First, B and C streets and the Commonwealth lands, south Boston. Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Senator Aldrich to Stand Pat.

Washington, D. C., October 10.—Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, chairman of the Senate committee on finance and a prominent republican leader, is here and has had several conferences with the President and other officials of the administration. It can be stated that Senator Aldrich during the coming session of Congress will oppose any efforts to secure a reduction of the tariff rates and is in favor of no financial legislation except the passage of a bill to enable the proposed Panama canal bonds to be used as a basis of national bank circulation on the same terms as existing bonds are used. Through an oversight the original Panama canal act authorizing the issuance of bonds to meet the expenses of construction made no provision for their use by the banks as security for their circulation. Without some special legislation such circulation based on the canal bonds would be subject to a tax of one per cent, whereas that based on all other two per cent bonds of the government is only one-half of one per cent. The importance of this is that the law provides that the canal bonds, which are to be issued from time to time to the amount of $180,000,000, shall bear two per cent interest and be sold at par. Unless the banks can make use of the canal bonds to deposit in the Treasury as a basis for their circulation it will be impossible to sell them at par. A bill to remedy this defect was introduced last session but because of the war it was not allowed to pass. It will be necessary to pass it early in the coming session in order to meet the expenses of the prosecution of the canal work. On the tariff question Senator Aldrich is understood to be in favor of the adoption of legislation to establish maximum and minimum rates with the present Dingley law rates retained as the minimum. This would be a defensive measure and would place in the hands of the administration an effective weapon to meet the new German tariff or any other similar hostile legislation by other foreign countries.

Alleged Illegal Fishing.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 10.—Fishermen at this port are thoroughly frightened over yesterday's developments in the alleged illegal fishing which has been conducted lately by some of the American fishing tugs. Fishing tug Valiant of this port, which was captured by the U. S. Revenue Cutter Morrill, of Long Point, in Lake Erie yesterday afternoon, is the largest boat of the Booth Fish Company, and her loss to that company is considerable. On board the captured vessel when towed into port here last night, were Captain Oscar Cornelius, of Cleveland, Ohio, the engineer, and four fishermen of the crew. The Captain will make a statement to the officers of the Booth Company today, explaining their position in the Lake when captured. It is thought Captain Cornelius will maintain that so long as the Canadian cruiser Vigilant, which passed him several times during the day, did not molest him, the revenue cutter has no right to take him for pulling net over the line into Canadian waters. The Valiant was taken as she was fishing in mid-lake west of Conneaut harbor, Ohio, and had only about six hundred pounds of fish aboard. Her captain was notified he was under arrest and ordered to make ready to be taken in tow.

The captain of other tug fishing in the vicinity were warned that they would be placed under arrest today. These tugs are also in port, but have not as yet been taken over by the Morrill. The Valiant is valued at $4,000, and the tackle and gear at $1,500 more. The commander of the Morrill reported the capture to Washington from Conneaut, but when asked here to make a statement of the capture by a press representative, declined to do so.

Escape of an Assassin.

Helsingfors, Finland, Oct. 10.—Lennart T. Hosenhal, the assassin of Procurator General Holzander Siominen, who before he was ennobled was known by the name of Johnson, escaped last night from prison where he was serving a life sentence for his crime. He made his way out of the prison by cutting through a window. Hosenhal has seven hours' start on the police, and there is little doubt that he has reached the sea.

Theater a Private Business.

Pittsburg, Oct. 10.—Judge Ray of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court has handed down an opinion in which he holds that a theatre is a private business and the proprietor is under no implied obligation to serve the public and that there is no duty, as in the case of a common carrier, to admit everyone who may apply and be willing to pay for a ticket.

London, Oct. 10.—News reached here today that the large cotton mills at Chatham, Lancashire, were on fire. It is expected that the loss will be heavy and the workmen greatly inconvenienced by being deprived of work for the remainder of the year.

Session Suspended.

Buda-Pesth, Hungary, Oct. 10.—With the reconvening of Parliament today the expected special proclamation proroguing the session was read. The new adjournment is taken until December 15, the longest time for which Parliament is prorogued is severely criticized. Such a tumult followed the reading of the imperial rescript and the protest made in behalf of the constitution by Count Julius Andrássy that the president finally suspended the session.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 10.—The first new development of the day was the announcement that Great Northern is to give to each holder of 100 shares of Great Northern stock the right to subscribe to twenty shares of new stock at par. These rights are estimated as worth between $8 and $10 and caused an advance in the price of Great Northern preferred. Practically everything on the list made some gain in the first hour and the market was strong and more confident, based to a great extent on assurances from high sources that money will be easier. The brokers handling money offered large amounts early in the day at 6 per cent, and have since made loans at 5 per cent.

Cheated Death.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety. I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and kept them constantly on hand, since, as I have said, I was cured. E. H. Wolfe and Sons, druggist guarantee them at 50c."

Legislative Investigating Committee.

New York, Oct. 9.—Robert Oliphant, a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company and chairman of the committee on expenditures, was a witness today before the legislative investigating committee. Mr. Oliphant said that he had authority as chairman to draw money on his own vouchers for legal expenses. He said that "all corporations maintained a confidential legal fund." When asked about the nature of the confidential fund, the witness said that many times counsel was employed who did not appear only in a particular case, and that counsel was paid out of the confidential fund. "Why was not the money paid to the general solicitor for disbursements?" was asked. "I do not know," replied the witness. Asked about campaign contributions, Mr. Oliphant said: "I think we gave $40,000 to the national republican committee last year. Was a contribution given in 1900?" "Yes." "How much?" "About $35,000." "In 1897?" "About $75,000." "In 1892?" "We made contributions in 1896, 1900 and 1904. Don't know of any others."

The Wabash Meeting.

Toledo, O., Oct. 10.—The Wabash meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock. Mr. Ramsey made a formal protest against Gould acting as chairman. The protest is based on the fact that he acts as chairman of the Missouri Pacific board. A recess was taken to permit the bondholders to caucus.

Toledo, O., Oct. 10.—The Gould interests will have a complete victory in the meeting of the Wabash stockholders today, electing in all probability the entire new directorate of the company, with a single exception.

The Alexandria County Case.

The very interesting case brought by Attorney John A. Lamb in the United States District Court on a writ of habeas corpus for the release of John C. Nelson and James L. Fontaine, of Alexandria county, was before Judge Waddell yesterday in Richmond and further steps were taken there.

Mr. Lamb's contention is that Alexandria county, because of the alleged illegality of the acts of secession, is part of the District of Columbia and not of Virginia, and therefore his clients, now under arrest, are unlawfully and illegally held. When the case was called yesterday Judge Waddell, Common Pleas of Alexandria county, and Attorney-General Anderson moved the court to quash the writ of habeas corpus, upon the ground that it has no jurisdiction in the case. The motion was set for hearing by the court at 4 o'clock next Tuesday.

The grounds for the Commonwealth Attorney and Attorney-General, more specifically set out, are as follows:

In the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Virginia: Ex-Parte: John C. Nelson and James L. Fontaine, upon a writ of habeas corpus.

Grounds for motion to quash the writ: First. That the question as to the jurisdiction over the territory comprised in the county of Alexandria and the ownership of the same by the Commonwealth of Virginia, cannot be raised by an individual. It is one which can be raised only by the United States or Virginia.

Second. The question is a political one as to which the action and decision of the political departments of the government is final. The political departments of both governments have repeatedly recognized Alexandria county as an integral of Virginia, and Virginia's rightful jurisdiction over the same.

Third. That the territory embraced in said county is both, de facto and de jure, a part of the territory of the State of Virginia, and subject to her jurisdiction and dominion in like manner and to the same extent as are the other counties of the Commonwealth.

Fourth. The petition upon which said writ was awarded sets up no ground under the Constitution and laws of the United States which authorizes the awarding of said writ by a judge or court of the United States.

Fifth. That it does not appear in said petition that the petitioners were in jail or in the custody of the sheriff of Alexandria county, or any deputy of said sheriff.

Sixth. This if the said petitioners have any grievances whatever, such as is alleged in their petition for said writ, their proper and lawful mode of procedure for redress and relief is by appeal to the courts of the State, and from the highest court of the State by writ of error from the Supreme Court of the United States.

GRANDALL MACKAY, Attorney for the Commonwealth of Alexandria county.

The Late Dr. Ewell.

Dr. O. B. Ewell, a prominent physician of this county, died at his home in Marion on Thursday last, aged 49 years. The deceased was born in Accomac Co., Va., and was the son of Rev. Dr. J. E. T. Ewell, who was one of the most prominent Methodist Protestant ministers of this day and the founder of the Methodist Protestant Church at Oriskany.

He was a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, of Baltimore city, and settled in Oriskany for the practice of his profession about thirty years ago. A short while after his location here he built up a very large and successful practice. In politics he was a democrat and was prominently identified with the councils of his party during the 18 years of his residence in this city. Under the first administration of Grover Cleveland he was postmaster at Oriskany for four years.

About 12 years ago he moved to Marion at which place he was actively engaged in the practice of his profession up to a few weeks previous to his death. The deceased was twice married. His first wife being Miss Mamie A. Ward, daughter of Mr. Thomas Ward, of Hopewell; by whom he has four surviving children, namely: Nellie C. Ewell, Mamie A. Louise and John E. T. Ewell.

His last wife, who survives him, was Miss Laura J. Batters, of Baltimore, by whom he has an infant child, Oscar B. Ewell. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. A. S. Ewell, and three brothers and one sister, A. W. Ewell, of Oriskany, Rev. J. H. Ewell, of Alexandria, Va., George R. Ewell, of Baltimore, and Miss Minnie B. Ewell, of Baltimore. The funeral services were held at Trinity M. P. Church, Marion, of which he was a member, on Sunday last. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Treadway, assisted by Rev. W. S. Phillips. The interment was made in the Oriskany cemetery. [Oriskany, Md., Times.]

Royal Arcanum.

A number of members of the two councils of Royal Arcanum of this city attended the union meeting held under the auspices of that order at the National Rifles' Armory in Washington last night. About 300 members were present. Abba Landis, an editor of the Fraternal Monitor, the leading fraternal insurance paper of the country, and one of the best-known fraternal lecturers and statisticians of the world, spoke at the meeting. Mr. Landis went to Washington especially to explain the new rates to the local members of the society. Editor Landis' explanations were those of an expert. At times his language contained many technical terms, making it difficult for some to comprehend him. He had his figures well in hand, and threw them at his hearers with much effect. "This matter of the readjustment of rates," he said, "must be considered from three standpoints. First, why is the change necessary? Second, is the change sufficient—that is, is it adequate and final at the same time? And lastly, are the changes equitable?" With the aid of a blackboard, Mr. Landis proceeded to show the soundness and wisdom of all of the changes. The new rates, he claimed, were graded on the past experience of the company. He said that he knew that now the old men were seemingly discriminated against, but that everything had been done to make an equitable schedule of rates, and the change showed the results of the earnest thought of men who had the welfare of the society and every member at heart, and they had kept in mind the idea of the greatest good to the greatest number.

Returned to Richmond.

A young woman named Helen Beasley arrived here about a week ago with an older woman from Richmond and the couple proceeded to a north Lee street resort.

The proprietress refused to harbor the girl, as she did not appear to be more than sixteen years old, although she said she was twenty-one. The couple later went to the Tontine Hotel where they remained until yesterday when Officer Beach, having heard of the arrival of the two women, interviewed the younger and was told by her that she was but fifteen years old. She also told the officer that she had been an inmate of a Richmond resort for the past two years. Her fingers were stained from cigarettes and she bore other evidences of having led a disorderly life. Mayor Paff upon being informed of the facts ordered the girl to be sent back to Richmond and this morning Officer Roberts put her aboard the 11:05 train. By this time she is back in her old home. The girl was met in Washington yesterday by a lady from this city. She was crying and said she had accompanied a woman from Richmond who had deserted her. The lady paid her fare to this city, and gave her shelter for the night.

Opera House.

Alexandria's favorites, the J. L. Tempest Dramatic Company, opened a week's engagement at the Opera House last night in the fine act melodrama, "A Wolf's Devotion," the house being crowded to its fullest capacity. The drama was excellently presented, not a thing happening to mar the enjoyment of the play. The specialties were decidedly good and of a highly refined nature. A great many familiar faces are with the company, to which the audience gave due recognition by a hearty sound of applause. Jennie Tempest, the leading woman, played a rather difficult part in the role of "Ned," but came out with colors flying. Miss Tempest has never failed to please, and her impersonations are always watched with interest. As this company scored a hit here last season, large crowds are expected tonight. The bill for tonight will be the four-act Egyptian drama, "The Queen of the Harem." The advance sale of reserved seats for tonight has been very heavy.

Sudden Death of Mrs. English. Mrs. Sarah F. English, wife of Mr. Samuel T. English, formerly of this city, died very suddenly in Rockville, Md., yesterday morning of heart disease, aged 60 years. Upon arising she appeared to be in her usual health and looked after the preparation of breakfast. Just as the other members of the family sat down to breakfast she complained of not feeling well and lay down on the sofa. She almost immediately threw up her hands and expired. She leaves no children.

The deceased was a native of Trenton, N. J. She resided in this city several years and had a number of friends and acquaintances here who will regret to hear of her death. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Free Methodist Church at Rockville.

Disorderly Soldiers.

Two soldiers, who gave their names as Joseph Ramey and Justus Kuger, came here yesterday, seemingly determined to disturb the peace. They boarded an electric train at Prince and Royal streets and unceremoniously beat a passenger, and when asked to desist by a witness of the assault one of the men wanted to assault the peacekeeper. When the train reached Wilkes street one of the soldiers assaulted the other. The train was stopped and the offenders turned over to Officers Roberts and Arrington. They were brought before the Police Court this morning and fined $10 each.

It was attended by the Masonic fraternity in a body. The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Light and the interment was with Masonic honors in the City Cemetery. Killed by Her Brother.

Mrs. Lizzie Satterwhite, residing near Golanville, Caroline county, left her four children at home Sunday while she went visiting. In her absence one of the daughters, aged seven years, was shot and instantly killed by her little brother James, aged 10 years. Upon the return of the mother, she found the dead body of the child on the floor, surrounded by the other little ones. It is not known how the accident occurred, as the children are too young to give an intelligent account of the affair.
